Deerfield Best Chicago-Area Community for Families

A WalletHub analysis of 162 Illinois communities found the Village of Deerfield to be the best community in the Chicago region for families. Deerfield was ranked second overall in Illinois in the study.

WalletHub's analysts compared 162 cities in the state across 21 key indicators of ideal family conditions, including family life and fun; education, health and safety; affordability; and socioeconomic environment. Deerfield scored a 72.08, just behind the downstate community of Morton at 72.67. Deerfield took the top score in the affordability ranking, which measures median annual family income against housing costs and the cost of living index.
